"As I become older I don't get seasick, however rough the seas are...I can assure you that you don't need to worry about my getting seasick or jumping the ship. I am going to saty at the helm until we bring it into port."

Nixon to Seafarers' International Union 11/26/73

Introduced these comments by saying that Churchil had told him that as he grew older he would outgrow seasickness.